Watcher Total Protection & Paladin POS

Keep your store safe

Match invoices to video footage and record questionable transactions.

A problem for all business owners is the loss of inventory and revenue¹. It's impossible to watch every item, shelf, and transaction in your store. Have hope! There is a way to keep an eye on all the activities within the business.

How do you prevent inaccurate transactions and theft in your store? Video surveillance is the answer. Prevent loss with a system that monitors your store like its own child. Watcher Total Protection allows you to find and review a recorded video event. Why does this matter? Security is essential to keep your store safe. Maybe a customer claims that they didn't receive all their product purchase, or they weren't given the correct change. The Watcher recording feature enables you to search for any transaction by any information on the invoice.

Value

Watcher Total Protection was created by Nathan Looman in 2002. Watcher monitors a location with a live video camera via any internet connection. This security alone discourages inventory theft, promotes employee productivity, avoids concern over cash transactions, and helps spot damages to property¹.

Paladin proudly integrated with Watcher Total Protection in January of 2013, providing an excellent security system for Paladin users.

Paladin wants you to succeed. Video surveillance is another tool for success.

Features

The Watcher and Paladin integration "allows you to capture transaction data and overlay the text right on the video¹." While watching over your store and recalling specific transactions, you can also "search your recorded video for specific keywords, SKU numbers, transaction numbers, or any other text that is normally printed on the receipt¹.” Look up details for a sale including payment type, invoice number, or a number of cashier actions (such as opening the cash drawer).

No longer must you stream forward and back hoping to find a specific event. This valuable feature is extremely convenient and provides a simple way to take care of your store.

Other features Include¹:

- Watch transactions as they happen
- View transactions at a later date
- Save backups and archives

Benefits

With high-end security built into your Paladin POS system, you have the ability to watch your store like a hawk. The integration does not require any additional purchases, and only requires an internet connection to work successfully.

The Paladin POS and Watcher Total Protection integration provides the added security you need in the 21st Century.

Other benefits include:

- Loss prevention
- Conflict resolution

The Paladin Advantage:

- Add value, not cost
- Simple, easy monitoring of your store
